

So the Commissioner complains about his FCC being "the most lobbied group in the government." I suppose he is complaining about all those free trips to Las Vegas he's taken that are paid for by the media owners, his "lobbyists."

It's time to curb this arrogance of power and preserve the freedoms this country is supposed to stand for. Media controls the perceptions of the people and those who control perceptions control the people. This FCC media power grab is all about power and control. Let the people have a choice. Freedom of choice is what makes the USA a great country.
